SCRIPTURE READING

John 4:28-30, 39-41 | Then the woman left her water jar and went back to the city. She said to the people, “Come and see a man who told me everything I have ever done! He cannot be the Messiah, can he?”

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

1. Sister Cindy uses a confrontational approach to evangelism. Do you think this approach successfully spreads the word of God to college students? Why or why not?
2. Do you have negative connotations associated with the word “evangelism?”
3. In the scripture above, the woman shares what Jesus has done in her life with her neighbors, friends, and family. Who is someone that comes to mind that you could share your faith with?
4. In the scripture above, the woman invites the people to “come and see.” Who’s someone you can invite to your small group or to worship?

PUTTING IT INTO PRACTICE

In the SermonCast, Pastor Fernie shares the following tips for sharing your faith:

- Share your experiences of Jesus with those close to you.
- Invite people to participate in a life of faith.
- When people have faith questions, don’t be afraid to say, “I don’t know. Let’s find out together.”

What other ideas can you put into practice so that you can share your faith with others?
